In a long editorial article calling for a subscription of £10,000 to Washington College by the friends and admirers of General Lee in England, the London Standard of August 17th, speaks of him as follows:

"There is no living hero—there are few, if any, among those whose names shine with the purest lustre in history—whose character has commanded so high a tribute of affection and admiration from their friends, of respect and honor from their foes, as that of General Lee.—No life more perfectly heroic, no reputation more untarnished even by the minor blemishes which are not uncommonly found in unison with the highest heroism, has ever been connected with a great national struggle. No shade of vanity or egotism, nothing of the self-will or petulance so often characteristic of conscious genius, no tinge of affectation, no taint even of the pride almost inseparable from ordinary greatness of mind, which can endure everything but humiliation, and regards submission as disgrace, alloy the simple grandeur of the Virginian soldier's nature. A piety without the slightest shadow of Pharisaism, a sense of duty to which the sacrifice of every personal feeling and interest appears a matter of course, have marked his whole course and guided his every public act, whether as a soldier or as a citizen. A family connection and the nearest living representative of the great champion of American independence, General Lee has been the Washington of the Confederate war; like Washington, a man "whom envy dared not hate," but without even the one dark stain of doubt, if not of dishonor, which the death of Major Andre has left on the memory of his prototype. No more "selfless man and stainless gentleman" ever lived; no soldier ever set a more admirable example of the soldierly virtues of honor, chivalric generosity, and manly simplicity; no great man ever retired into obscurity, after witnessing alike the ruin of his cause and the destruction of his private fortune, with more of Christian patience and unshaken fortitude.

"Of his military achievements we need not speak. It is enough to say that nearly all his victories were won against enormous odds, and that his four years' defence of Virginia has few parallels in history as an example of great results accomplished with small means and at fearful disadvantages. What is now more interesting to remember is the personal character of the man, as displayed in the various exigencies of that trying struggle; the simple honesty and kindly feeling which prompted him to console his soldiers as they recoiled from the cannon-crowned heights of Gettysburg, with the assurance, "It is all my fault;" the unaffected self-depreciation which pronounced, when Stonewall Jackson fell, "I would wish, for the sake of our cause, that I had been disabled rather than you;" the christian chivalry, which no outrage could provoke to retaliation, which, after Virginia had been rendered a desert, withheld the army that invaded Pennsylvania from inflicting the most trivial injury on person or property; which, when his own estates had been plundered, ravaged and confiscated, took care to protect the houses and property of his enemies; the horror of useless bloodshed which withstood the cry for retribution excited by the murder of Southern prisoners in cold blood, and supported the resolve of the President that unless the actual murderers were taken no blood should be shed but on the field of battle; the touching unselfishness of his last words to his disbanding army, on the sorrowful 9th of April, "I have done my best for you."—But it was when all was over—when the chief of a great and long victorious army was a private man and a paroled prisoner—that the peculiar greatness of General Lee's nature shines out with unequalled brightness."

Getting Back in the Union.

At the close of the war, when the relations between owner and slave were so suddenly changed, a farmer in Chatham Co.—Mr. C—— called up his slaves and gave them a truthful and candid statement of affairs. He told them to visit some of the neighboring plantations, enquire what others were giving for hands, return, and all who wished to remain with him at the ruling prices could do so, telling them at the same time that all who left then, or in the future, after engaging to remain, need not expect any more employment from him.

A large majority, if not all of them, concluded to remain, and commenced work as if no interruption had taken place. After a while, one of them, Jerry, thought that working with his former master, and at his "old home," even for wages, was not his idea of freedom. So he determined to start out "on his own hook."

Nothing was heard of him for a long time, but as the winter set in, Jerry was frequently seen in the neighborhood and sometimes near his old home. ("Oh! darkies, how my heart grows weary," &c.)

Cold weather commenced. Mr. C— determined to kill his hogs and put up his bacon for the year. Going out very early one morning to commence the operation, to his surprise, he saw Jerry standing among the hands as if he was ready to assist.

When he stopped where the hands were, Jerry stepped up and offered his services; as he had formerly been Mr. C's— butcher, he consented to his assisting in the "killing."

The hogs were killed and packed. When night came Mr. C— gave him a bag of pork sufficient in quantity for the payment of a week's labor. Still he did not leave for his home—if he had one. He loitered about and kept near Mr. C— as if he wished to say something and did not know how to commence.—He was evidently confused. Noticing his actions, Mr. C— said "well Jerry, are you satisfied with the payment for your day's work?" "Oh yes, sir, more than enough t'is. But that is not what I wants. I come over to day to see if I could "get back into the Union, sir."

Mr. C— related this anecdote to several gentlemen who were visiting his house, and as he finished one of them asked him if he made Jerry take a "test oath before taking him back into the Union." He replied that he thought Jerry sufficiently "reconstructed" and dispensed with it.—Fayetteville News.

One exceedingly warm day in July a neighbor met an old man and remarked that it was very hot. "Yes," says Joe, "if it wasn't for one thing I should say we were going to have a thaw." "What is that?" inquired his friend. "There's nothing froze," says Joe. That man went his way, much enlightened.

A CARD.

IT is proposed by the Philanthropic Society of the University of North Carolina to collect information relative to her Alumni and Members who participated in the late war. She has concluded, (as the most effectual way,) to address a Card to the Public, asking its assistance in this most praiseworthy undertaking.

The information desired is to embrace the rank and command of the individual; if dead, how and where; if wounded, in what battle, and if severely or not and if resigned, whether from disability or not. Information is particularly requested in reference to the class of 1859-'60, but an account of all classes is also wished.

The Society is convinced, unless a generous assistance is given her by the friends and relatives of those mentioned, that her attempt at compiling such material must be futile. She therefore earnestly requests each and every one, who is competent, and especially does she expect the hearty co-operation of her old and honorary Members, to give the desired information, and at once, as half its value will be lost from delay in giving it.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

IMPORTANT SALE

IN WILSON NORTH CAROLINA

to make sale of that VALUABLE PROPERTY, including all the buildings, together with about Twelve and a fourth Acres of Land, will offer the same at public auction, on the 14th day of September next.

The Seminary is a large and commodious building, admirably arranged for school purposes, and contains a sufficient number of rooms to accommodate about TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS. The buildings are nearly new, having been erected in 1860, and are of every kind needed in a first class Seminary.

The Seminary is located on the Eastern boundary of the town of Wilson, below the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, and on an elevated spot of ground, well shaded, and having excellent wells of water. The proverbial healthiness of the town of Wilson, (it being the highest point on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad,) and the morality, intelligence and refinement of its citizens, make it one of the most desirable locations for a first class, Male or Female, Seminary in the State.

Of the 12¼ acres of land a sufficient quantity will be sold for school or other purposes, together with all the buildings formerly used by Seminary, and the balance of the land will be sold in lots, the size of which will be announced on the day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-fourth cash; on the balance a credit of six months will be given.

JOSHUA BARNES, President.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

LOCATED IN AND ADJOINING THE TOWN OF WARRENTON, N. C.

FOR SALE.

The Warrenton Female College is now offered for sale, on reasonable terms. This College has been in successful operation, for over twelve years, and, during that time, it has earned a reputation as an Institution of learning, second to none in N. C.

The location is such as to warrant a full attendance of pupils, being very accessible from any point, especially the Eastern portions of N. C. and Va.

The Committee, who have been empowered to make sale of this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this Institution as its character for a high grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals inculcated, under the eye and supervision of its late President, E. E. Parham, is already well known.

The society in which this College is located is known to be equal to any in the South.

There is now a sufficiency of Buildings and other Conveniences attached to this Real Estate, to conduct a large and flourishing school. The premises contain about SIXTY ACRES of Land a material portion of which is within the Corporation. This, with all or a part of the furniture, &c., belonging to the same, can be purchased with the land and buildings. This property will be offered privately for sale until Wednesday the 3rd day October next, and, if not then sold, will be on that day sold, at public auction, to the highest bidder.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, } Editors.
SEATON GALES. }

Tuesday Evening, Sept. 11, 1866.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS. NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR,
JONATHAN WORTH,
OF RANDOLPH.

The South Must Manufacture.

Georgia understands this, and is exerting herself to establish manufactories at every available point. Her people, though poor, do what they can, themselves, in order to profit by manufactories, and, at the same time, to give employment to the poor male and female citizens of the State. But besides investing their own small capital, they use all laudable efforts to induce capitalists from other points to invest.

Why cannot North Carolina do the same? We have already from ten to twenty cotton factories in operation and two or three woollen factories, but the demand for coarse yarns and cloths is not equal to the supply. We need better machinery; a higher class of goods is demanded, or, rather, the better classes of goods, not being much higher than the common, take the precedence.

We need factories that will manufacture sheetings, bleached and brown, tickings, jeans, gingham, prints, plaids and stripes of all varieties. Our wool factories should make common to best sattinetts, jeans, flannels, &c. Indeed, we do not see why we should not manufacture entirely all our agricultural implements, hardware, hollow ware, woodware, soaps, candles, shoes, &c. Thorough boot and shoe factories, conducted upon the system which prevails in the Northern States, we believe would do a splendid business at various points in the State.

Why should not North Carolina at least make her own butter, cheese, pork and bacon, and her own clothing, to a great extent? Our resources are abundant for every species of manufacture, and we have labor in abundance, which cannot be profitably employed in any thing else. We have the raw material, the water power, cheap fuel for steam-power, and labor in abundance, cheaper than can be obtained at the North. The North has been made rich by her manufactures. Why cannot the South, with superior advantages, do the same?

It will be seen, in our local column, that the establishment of a large factory in this city, for making a finer class of fabrics than heretofore, is attracting the attention of our people.—We hope the enterprise will be carried through with a vim. Every man who can spare a hundred or a thousand dollars should contribute to its establishment.

ONE OF THE resolutions of the late Mulatto Convention assails the validity of the State governments in the South. It declares:

"That the organizations in the unrepresented States assuming to be State Governments, not having been legally established, are not legitimate Governments until recognized by Congress."

If the States of the South have not legitimate governments, why did Congress submit, for their ratification, amendments to the Constitution? If their governments are not valid, they cannot be called on to participate in the amendment of that instrument.

Another resolution is as follows:

"Resolved, That we are in favor of universal liberty the world over, and feel the deepest sympathy with the oppressed people of all countries in the struggle for freedom and the inherent right of all men to decide and control for themselves the character of the Government under which they live."

These men, who declare themselves in favor of "universal liberty the world over," deny liberty to the citizens and tax-payers of ten large States!

Again they proclaim their deepest sympathy with "all oppressed people in their struggle for freedom," and assert the "inherent right of all men to decide and control for themselves the character of the government under which they live." And yet they turn around and brand as "traitors" and "rebels," the men of the South, who only sought to exercise that inherent right. But this is Radical logic.

"It makes no difference with us where a man was born, if he possess good principles, and if his conduct is upright and honorable."—Standard.

We agree to that heartily. But we hold that the man who is a Radical in political faith does not "possess good principles." He proposes to disfranchise and proscribe his neighbors; to punish and degrade them for acts for which, in nine cases out of ten, he is more responsible than themselves.

When a man from the North comes to our midst, with a purpose to settle and assist as a good citizen in the material development of the State, we shall bid him welcome; but when he signalizes his coming by an offensive and vindictive spirit, we shall unearth him, wherever he may be found.

Still, we have far more respect, as we have often said, for a Northern, than we have for a Southern, Radical.

"There is no enterprise looking to the improvement and benefit of that community (Newbern) to which Mr. Stanly (E. R.) has not put his hand, or for which he has not expended his money."—Standard.

Mr. Stanly is in a very fair way to undo whatever good he may at any time have done for Newbern or the State. Carry out the Radical programme, which Mr. Stanly endorses, and liberty and property, and even life, itself, in the South, will be held by a tenure so precarious as to be worthless.

POOR CUFFEE is just now scratching his thick skull and vainly essaying to find out what substantial benefit his mean white associates, at Philadelphia, have conferred on him, after all their hubbub and noise.

The Maine Election.

Maine held her annual election, on yesterday, to choose a Governor, five members of Congress and a State Legislature. At present, the Governor, all the members of Congress, all the State Senate, and 136 out of 157 members of the House are Republicans. In 1865, at the gubernatorial election, the Republican vote was 53,449 and the Democratic 31,117.

It is, of course, not to be expected that this heavy majority will be overcome, though there is good reason to hope that it may be reduced.

As we have heretofore remarked, the Radicals have the luck of commencing the campaign with the New England States on the front of the skirmish line. Next month, when the elections in the great States come off, we shall see whether the country is to be saved or destroyed.

DIVISIONS AMONG THE RADICALS.—The Radical party is not homogeneous, even upon the "nigger." The spirit of abolitionism created the party, and yet the differences among them, in regard to the future of the black race, are likely to dissolve the party. Many at the North favor universal suffrage for the blacks, and an entire obliteration of all civil, political or social distinctions on account of color, while others are for limited suffrage; and others oppose it altogether. In the late Disunion Convention in Philadelphia, the Northern Radicals were opposed to putting negro suffrage in the platform; the Radicals of the Middle and border States bolted rather than favor it; while the strongest universal suffrage men were the Northern and Southern Radicals, who professed to represent the extreme South.

In this State, the Radicals are divided; some holding one idea and others differing. Some profess to be for Johnson; others denounce him—some are for negro suffrage; others against it. At a late meeting in Wilkes Co., they advocated the colonization of the black race in Africa. They are united, we believe, only upon one thing, and that is, they want all the offices filled by themselves! They care but little about time-honored principles, about the government and Constitution of their fathers. It would seem they would give the Northern Radicals a carte blanche to alter the Constitution, so that they would disfranchise every Southern man but themselves, and give them the offices!—How patriotic! What loving-Union men!

THE NEWBERN RADICALS.—It seems that the President of the late Jacobin meeting in Newbern was unable to make up his list of only twenty delegates to the Convention in Raleigh, without presuming upon the affinities of some of his appointees. We are gratified to infer that there are not twenty Radicals to be found in Newbern, as several of those named as delegates have repudiated any affiliation or sympathy with the movement. The Newbern Commercial says:

"In this list are names we did not expect to see and others we did expect, but the appearance of some names there we are prepared to account for. For instance, the name of Mayor John N. Washington is in the list. We have authority for saying that Mayor Washington considers this an unauthorized, impertinent use of his name. He had nothing whatever to do with the movement or the meeting; did not authorize in any manner the use of his name in connection therewith; does not approve of the movement; has expressed himself unmistakably in condemnation of it; believes in President Johnson, will support him in preference to any other man in the country, and will support and vote for Gov. Worth.

The name of Wm. P. Moore is in the list.—Mr. Moore had nothing whatever to do with the matter; has never been in any one of the Radical meetings; authorizes his friends to say that this use of his name is unauthorized and unwarrantable, and that he will support President Johnson and Gov. Worth.

The name of David Heaton is in the list. Col. Heaton is and has been absent from this State for weeks past in the South West. We are authorized to state that recently a letter has been received in this city from him, in which he pronounces for President Johnson and promises him a hearty support in preference to any other man in the nation.

Here, then, we have three of the names of the delegates used by the leaders of this faction without authority and most unwarrantably. No doubt there are several others in the same category, and we venture the assertion that of the twenty named in President Thomas' list, not more than four or five have consented to this use of their names."

AMENDE HONORABLE.—When we unwittingly do a person injustice, and ascertain the fact, we are always willing to make reparation. A few weeks since, we stated, on the authority of the Greensboro' Patriot, that at a Radical meeting in Guilford, Tourgee had given the "Standard" a severe rasping for not coming fully up to his idea of what was required of it as a sentinel on the Radical watch-tower. It seems that this is a mistake. Tourgee is out in a letter, in which he says:

"I did not give the Standard "a severe rasping." I never "rasp" men or journals who are pulling the same way with myself, and in addition to this I most heartily approve the course of Mr. Holden as Provisional Governor, and believe that it his policy had been pursued our political horizon would have been clearer to-day than it is. I did not say, directly or indirectly, that the Standard was "particularly delinquent as to the rights of negroes." Nor did I mention the Standard or any other journal in connection with the rights or wrongs of negroes. I did say, and it was the only reference made to the Standard, that its power and usefulness at the present time were greatly impaired by its former utterances, and I have no doubt that Mr. Holden would willingly, though perhaps sorrowfully, admit the same."

Sheriffs and Taxes.

Several of the Sheriffs of the State have already settled with the Public Treasurer. Where the people are prepared to pay their taxes, the sooner it is done the better, simply for the reason that, when a thing is obliged to be done, the sooner it is done the better. But it will be borne in mind that the late Convention, in order to relieve the people, extended the time for the settlement of the Sheriffs with the Public Treasurer until the 1st. of January next, instead of the 1st. of October. This, however, has no reference to unlisted taxes or such as merchants, &c., are required to pay. This tax the Sheriffs must collect and forward to the Treasurer at any time he may direct before the 1st. of January.

The collection of the general listed tax is left to the discretion of the Sheriffs, but they must be ready to settle on or before the 1st. of January next. The Sheriffs, we are sure, will give the people all the indulgence which their duty will allow.

The Two Conventions.

The contrast presented by the Mulatto concern in Philadelphia, which has just adjourned, to that which assembled in the same City, on the 14th of August, is, indeed, most striking. The Lynchburg News presents the contrast in a most impressive light. It says:

"The one an assemblage of dignified, intelligent, representative men; the other, composed, with few exceptions, of obscure, ignorant, and unprincipled malignants, who favor any policy however disorganizing and revolutionary which affords the promise of prolonged agitation and prospective violence. The exceptions are men; some of them possessing intellectual capacity of a high order, but all disappointed aspirants for place, or traitors deposed from power. The one laboring with united and fraternal impulse, to restore tranquility and quiet to a country torn and convulsed by the passions and violence of four years of bloodshed and rapine; the other desirous of perpetuating this condition, and determined to retain political power, even at the risk of political anarchy. The one exhibiting to the country the gratifying spectacle of a combination of right thinking patriots laboring to secure the prosperity and happiness of the whole people, and the preservation of the great principles of constitutional liberty; and the other striving with divided councils, and irreconcileable feuds, to override every consideration of prudence and utterly to ignore every principle of liberty. The one having harmoniously perfected its labors adjourn with bright prospects of future triumph; the other distracted and dissevered by the antagonistic views of its selfish and fanatical members, is likely to split on a question of vital importance, and can only look forward to future disasters and retributive disgrace."

ATLANTIC HOUSE, Beaufort, Sept. 7.

Messrs. Editors:—Why does not all the world come down here and enjoy the delights of the sea-coast in September? Perhaps because the Southern portion of it are too poor, or too busy to leave home; but if there are any of your friends who have the money and the leisure to spare, tell them to come down and find out for themselves how charming Captain Grainger, of the late C. S. A., can make his house to the "select few" who have had the courage to remain with him after the so-called "season" is over. He is a most obliging host, and his assistant, Mr. Whitehead, likes nothing better than to find an ex Confederate officer who was a "brother in affliction" during the days of his incarceration in Fort Delaware, and solace his inner-man with oysters, crabs and hog fish, while his outer luxuriates in the balmy South breezes and delightful baths at every high tide.

At present our company is a small one, as the tide of guests which has been ebbing and flowing for the last two months seems now to be at slack water; but we are expecting a gay time next week, as our host has offered a silver cup as a prize to the fastest boat, and on Saturday, the 15th, we are to have a grand regatta and ball. Send us down reinforcements in the shape of ladies and gentlemen who love dancing and racing. Return tickets can be purchased which will reduce the railroad fare to about eight dollars, and give you three or four days of sea breezes besides the ball and regatta. From ten to fifteen boats will be entered for the prize, and as they are splendid craft for sailing we expect a most exciting race. The two best boats are the Beauregard and the Robert E. Lee, both of which are largely patronized by former Confederates, while "our friends, the enemy," as a general rule, prefer the Mollie Weston, which carries a streamer at her mast head with "U. S. Mail" in white letters on a red ground.

Some time last month, a party of young ladies determined to present Ben, the freedman commanding the Beauregard, with a flag for his craft. After consultation with General Bradley T. Johnson, who is as ready for fun now as he was for fighting when a live, instead of an ex-General, they bought a square of red flannel and transferred to its centre a white cotton Maltese cross. With all due ceremony it was, when completed, run up to the mast head of the Beauregard, and as many as she could carry embarked on board of her for a sail past Fort Macon. Great was the commotion in the Fort and on board the double-ender lying under its guns, when the saucy little craft flitted by them. Her red flag and white cross were, to the commandant of the U. S. land and naval forces of the harbor of Beaufort, like the red flag of the Matador to the angry bull. A deputation of officers was sent over to enquire into the matter, and when it was discovered that the flag was made by Southern women, and had a cross upon it, these two circumstances, combined with the name of the boat and the fact that there is a constellation in the heavens called the Southern cross, rendered the matter suspicious, and Ben received an intimation that his flag must come down. But Ben, being a freedman, stood up for his new-fledged rights and stoutly refused to take it down, bravely bearing all persecution, even to the cutting of his main sheets by some person or persons unknown.

In the absence of war news from Europe, this quarrel between the commandant of the land and naval forces of the harbor of Beaufort, and Ben, the freedman commanding the Beauregard, has become the topic of the day; and Ben's report, which he duly makes to the ladies of the Atlantic House, is looked for with as much interest as the news by the Cable. The matter is at present in statu quo, and we are all on the qui vive to know whether the Beauregard, with her bit of red flannel, will be allowed to enter for the silver cup, or whether, as has been threatened, she will be confiscated by the U. S. for her impertinence. There seems a slight lull in affairs just now, and it is reported that the matter has been referred to the authorities at Washington. How that is we can't say, but will know before the regatta comes off,—when it is proposed, if red with a white cross be forbidden, that the Beauregard shall hoist the black flag, and Ben sail under his own colors. Come down and see him do it. GLAUCUS.

Political Meeting.

A meeting of the citizens of Northampton county was held, in the town of Jackson, on Tuesday, the 4th day of September, 1866.

On motion, Samuel Calvert was appointed chairman, and William J. Maddry secretary.

The chairman said that the chief object of the meeting was to nominate candidates to represent the county in the next Legislature; that the candidates nominated at a meeting here on yesterday were not, in his opinion, acceptable to a majority of the people.

Col. John B. Odom moved that a committee of five be appointed to prepare resolutions for the consideration of the meeting, and propose suitable persons as candidates. The chairman, thereupon, appointed John B. Odom, William Barrow, E. A. Martin, James B. Barnes, and Samuel Boyce, a committee, who reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That whilst it is natural for us to desire the return of the State to her former Constitutional relations with the Federal government upon the most favorable terms, yet since the end of the recent unfortunate strife of arms, we have submitted, and as law abiding and Union-loving citizens we expect to submit, to all the requirements constitutionally imposed on us by the authorities of the general government in view of the future peace, and above all, of the perpetual and eternal Union of the States.

Resolved, That we have entire confidence in the ability, integrity, patriotism, and strong attachment to the Union, of our present representatives to the State Legislature, and cordially recommend them for re-election.

In response to the wishes of the meeting, Messrs Garner and Newsum declared themselves as candidates. Mr. Flythe, in a feeling speech, declared that, for the sake of the cause for which he and his friends present had been battling, he would like to be a candidate, but very delicate health absolutely prevented the gratification of such desire. Whereupon Captain E. A. Martin was put in nomination, which being approved of, he accepted and declared himself a candidate.

On motion, it was ordered that the Raleigh papers be requested to publish the proceedings of the meeting.

SAMUEL CALVERT, Chairman.
WILLIAM J. MADDRY, Secretary.

HILLSBORO, Sept. 7, 1866.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—On my return from an excursion to the Catawba river, I was much gratified to find, at the Company's Shops, a handsome first class engine called "Joseph Caldwell."

Now many of the present day will ask who is Joseph Caldwell. He is not now among the living, but his memory should stand without a monument. While he did eminent service to the State as the President of the University during a long period of its prosperity, (under whose administration some of the brightest and wisest men of our day were trained,) he found time to write a series of articles over the nomine de plume of "Carlton," which went very far towards preparing the public mind of North Carolina for the inception of a system of internal improvements, which has resulted, if not as a source of profitable investment for capitalists, at least in developing the resources of one of the richest States in the Union. I speak soberly when calling N. C. one of the richest States of the Union. For who that knows her agricultural and mineral resources can say otherwise?

Dr. Caldwell thought, wrote and spoke more on the subject of Railroads than any man of his day. He labored in season and out of season to arouse the people of North Carolina to adopt a system of internal improvements. At last, a small meed of justice has been awarded to the honor of his name. When our citizens see the engine bearing the name of the venerable President of the University, let them remember how slow the different Railroad companies have been in acknowledging the services of the good old man. When the Raleigh and Gaston road was completed, their first engines were called Whirlwind, Tornado, and such like. In course of time, the North Carolina Railroad was completed, and the public had the honor of being transported by the powerful arms of Ajax, Ulysses, Sisyphus, and such worthies of the olden times as require a pretty respectable acquaintance with the Classical Dictionary to know who they are that the Railroad companies of North Carolina have delighted to honor. (By the by, one is called Helios, and if the writer remembers Greek aright, the word is not spelled correctly. The Greeks had no H, but used the aspirated vowel.)

A Railroad engine is too perishable a monument for so great worth. It behooves, therefore, every such corporation in North Carolina to call some permanent object appertaining to their works by the honored name of Joseph Caldwell.

ONE OF HIS OLD PUPILS.

MEETING OF THE RADICALS IN GREENSBORO.—The impression generally prevails that a public meeting, under the auspices of the Southern radicals, was held in this town one day last week. Our information on the subject leads us to believe that a formal meeting was not held here, as many suppose. It seems that a kind of conclave or conference was held in the office of the Assessor for this district. The Mogul of the concern was one Doctor (so-called) John Lewis Johnson, of Forsythe county, formerly a manufacturer of spurious nostrums in this town, and who, by the way, some years ago, in the course of his "practice" prescribed a pot of "mush" for a man who complained of having the cholic. During a portion of the war he was a (so-called) Surgeon in the Confederate Army, and according to his own admissions, while canvassing Forsythe county as a candidate for the Convention, to which he was not elected, while in the capacity of Surgeon, perjured himself by aiding in and conniving at desertions from the Southern Army. This man Johnson, according to our understanding, is "Head Centre" of a secret league, an oath-bound organization, having for its object, as is supposed, the overthrow of the Government. His mission to this town last week, was to initiate certain persons into the order, and qualify them to return to their respective homes and in the various counties extend the order. Among those in attendance we observed William F. Henderson, of Davidson, more generally known in his own county, as "Col. William Windy." He is a very proper man to be engaged in such a business, and will no doubt prove a very pliant tool in the hands of Tourgee & Company. If it was wrong, and we are one who believe it was, to plot against the Government in 1861, it is likewise wrong to plot against it now. The people should be warned against the mischievous tendency of this Jacobin, disunion faction. Bad men are at the head of it, and if their own private objects are promoted through its agency, their deluded victims, for all they care, may go to the dogs.—Greensboro Patriot.

Tuesday Evening, Sept. 11, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Armstrong, Cator & Co., Importers and Jobbers of Ribbons, Bonnet Silks, Velvets, &c., No. 237 Baltimore St., Balt.

Attention of parties interested is called to two Court notices from Bertie Co.

The Sheriff of Johnston offers $25 reward for the apprehension of a negro who broke jail, in Smithfield, on the night of the 9th inst.

THE CAPITOL.—It makes one prouder than ever of our magnificent State Capitol to view the numerous improvements than have been effected in its interior appearance, of late. The painting of the walls and varnishing of the desks, the introduction of gas, and, indeed, the general brushing up, have worked a great change for the better. The grounds, also, are kept scrupulously neat and clean,—which is the more wonderful, considering the number of persons that pass through them daily.

BUSINESS CHANGES.—Mr. B. W. Starke resumes the position which he formerly so acceptably held as Telegraph Operator in this City.—Mr. J. C. O'Brien, whom he relieves, has been polite, efficient and accommodating.

Capt. Cad. J. Iredell, late with Messrs. Pulliam, Jones & Co., is now on duty at the National Bank, and will carry to his new sphere the same intelligence and industry that marked his intercourse with the business public while with the above firm.

WE DOUBT whether our city stores were ever better fitted with all that is attractive, comfortable and necessary for the outer and inner man than they are at present. "Nothing to wear," and "Nothing to eat," would be obsolete refrains, but for one difficulty of a serious nature,—the great scarcity of money among the people. However, those who have surplus cash may ascertain where to invest it most profitably by casting a eye along the advertising columns of the Sentinel.

MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY.—We are gratified to learn that it is in serious contemplation, by an association of gentlemen of capital, energy and experience, to establish a Factory, on an extensive scale, in this City, for the manufacture of cotton yarns into cloth. Such an enterprise, we are fully convinced, will not only prove profitable speculation in itself, but, what is better, it will contribute vastly to the material prosperity of all the surrounding country, and utilize much of the labor of the community.—Say, as an initiatory experiment, that a Factory, with only forty looms, be started. This will give employment to from sixty to eighty operatives at once, who might be selected from the large number of industrious and intelligent, but indigent, females in our midst. Its advantages in other respects are too obvious to require mention. The matter is one of such vital importance to our immediate community, that we trust our "solid men" will not allow the opportunity which is now presented to them to slip from their hands. As the projector of the scheme will be at the Exchange Hotel in this city, to-morrow, we suggest that a meeting for conference be arranged for that place in the afternoon,—say at 4 o'clock.

HON. JOHN BAXTER, formerly of this State, is canvassing East Tennessee in behalf of the President's policy. He is making telling and effective speeches, as he is so well capable of doing.

MASS MEETINGS, for the purpose of ratifying the proceedings of the late National Union Convention, are to be held in Buncombe and Henderson Counties. That in Buncombe takes place to-day, and the one in Henderson on Saturday. Keep the ball rolling!

WESTERN N. C. R. R.—The new Board on this road has very wisely reduced the rates of freight one-third, which corresponds with a similar reduction in the salaries of officers. The Statesville American says:

"The road henceforth may be expected to enter upon a prosperous course, as Col. Tate, the new President, is one of the most energetic and thorough railroad men we know, and his name will inspire a confidence in the public mind which, the past year, had become much weakened in the management of the Road."

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—We learn from the Patriot, that a fire occurred at the Gardner Hill Copper Mine, in Guilford, on Sunday, by which the engine-house and buddle and stamping rooms, with the machinery in them, were consumed. The fire was the work of an incendiary. With the exception of the injury sustained by the engine and the destruction of other machinery, the loss can be soon repaired, though it will cause some delay in the operations of the mine; which is more to be regretted, from the fact that the mine had just been brought to a state of successful operation, by which it would yield several tons of ore per week.

Mexico—Rumored Abdication of Maximilian.

Special Dispatch to the New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—A private letter received here to-day from Monterey says that Maximilian abdicated in favor of Prince Napoleon on the 10th ultimo.

[To the Associated Press.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—The statement current here that Maximilian had abdicated the throne of Mexico is only one of those rumors which usually precede approaching realization of important public events. I have very high Government authority for stating that the rumor is in no wise true, though it is known officially here that Maximilian some weeks since had packed up his effects for the departure, access to the palace having been denied for several days while this was being done. It is also believed that the French authorities absolutely refused to permit his final departure from the country at that time. The so-called Emperor will, however, leave to day, but not abdicating, as is stated, in favor of Prince Napoleon.

The Diminution of a Race.

Humanity is threatened with a terrible calamity—the Yankee race is disappearing. By Yankee race, we mean the variety of the human kind which inhabits New England, and which many naturalists, among others the celebrated Agassiz, have minutely described. It is wrong that we should give to other Americans the epithet Yankee, which they do not merit under any head.

In short, the Yankee race is disappearing.—Last year we had already experienced some fears—to-day, doubt is no longer permitted; we cannot dissimulate that fearful truth. In July, 1865, the Secretary of State of Massachusetts published the annual statistics of the deaths and births, and we remarked with astonishment that an immense majority of new births was due to foreign parents. Much commentary upon the fact was indulged in at that time, and we asked ourselves if the virility of the Yankees, properly called, had diminished in such an alarming manner, or if the women of Massachusetts had voluntarily yielded to foreigners the care of perpetuating the population.

Mr. Agassiz, who was just on the eve of departing for Brazil, was consulted. He replied that, indeed, the race did not appear to him any longer endowed with the vigor which it had formerly imported from Europe,—that the neck excessively elongated, and the pale, thin face were unequivocal signs of that decline, but that moral or rather immoral causes influenced equally upon that disquieting discrepitude. Mr. True, a Puritan minister, highly esteemed on account of his fanaticism, was also consulted. He replied by a citation from the Bible so blunt that modesty prevents us from reproducing it.

We waited with impatience for the statistics of this year, and we hoped they would give a denial to those of last year. Vain hope—sweet illusion too soon lost. The maternal strike continues, as to the ladies of New England, which is far from being a convent. The official exhibit of births at Boston for the last year is published by the Advertiser of that city, and we find there the following passage:

"The table of births shows that the number of children born of parents natives of the United States is 1,306, making only 24 per cent. of the totality of births—this proportion is still less than that of last year, which was about 28 per cent. The number of children born of Irish parents in 1864 was about 40 per cent.; in 1865 it has been 43 per cent. The total number of children born of parents, foreigners by birth, is considerable, &c., &c."

In other words, of 4,561 new births, 3,255 owe their life to foreign parents, and that in the capital of New England, the cradle of all that is excellent, the city which is offered as a model to the universe! Among the foreigners, the Irish, who are the most numerous, are equally the most prolific. The consequences which must result from a like state of things cause us to shudder. In a generation or two Massachusetts, the land of protestant fanaticism, will be peopled by catholics. In a generation or two, the Everetts, the Adams, the Winthrops, the Sumners will be supplanted by the O'Slaughnessys, the McGorhs, the McFodds, the Brannigans, the O'Callaghans, &c.

Let it not be alleged that the apparent want of virility on the part of the Bostonians proper is due to emigration; the population born upon the soil of Massachusetts is still quadruple of that born abroad. Where then is the mystery? Whence comes the fruitfulness of the European ladies? To what must we attribute the relative sterility of the New England ladies?—Shall we blame the women or must we accuse the men? How is it that the power or the will to engender is being lost by a people who believe themselves superior to all others? Grave questions, which we will not undertake to solve, and which appertain less, as we believe, to the province of the physiologist than to that of the moralist. For we have never heard it said that vows of chastity are common in New England, but, judging from the scandalous law suits which arise,—from those which are quashed in their incipiency,—from the customs which they illustrate, and from the abundance of a certain class of newspaper advertisements, we fear that it would not be difficult to divine the causes to which we must in a great measure attribute the progressive diminution of the Yankees proper, not only in the cities, but, moreover, in the rural districts, where they are replaced by the Germans.

Happily the United States are not embraced in New England alone, and it is not in the Western, Southern or Central States that it will be necessary to found professorships of virility. Massachusetts treats those States with all the insolence of her pride, but better would it be if she were alive to the dangers which threaten her.

THE OYSTER SEASON.—Norfolk has the world wide reputation of being the centre of the oyster trade in the South, and New York, Baltimore and other Northern cities owe her much. The Virginia oyster-beds, recovering from the interruption of the war, will yield largely this season, for the Virginia growers have begun to plant in earnest, in anticipation of a good Northern trade as of yore. This is good news for oyster dealers, for last year there was a loss on all sides, there not being near the quantity consumed that there had been in former years.—Norfolk Virginian.

THE BALTIMORE FAIR—Commenced yesterday in Baltimore, under auspices of the ladies of Maryland, a fair upon the largest scale, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the erection of an asylum in Richmond for the orphans of Southern Soldiers.

Heaven speed the good work and shower its choicest blessings upon the hearts that contribute to this noble object.

There was a tournament at Huntsville, Alabama, lately, at which one of the contestants appeared as the "Knight of the Gray Jacket."—Passing down one of the streets attired for the tournay, he was halted by a detachment of United States soldiers, and the buttons were cut off from his jacket of gray.

In the Texas Legislature, August 14th, Mr. Jackson offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Public Lands to enquire into the expediency of donating three hundred and twenty acres to each Confederate soldier, who, by reason of wounds received in the late war, is incapacitated for labor, and to report by bill or otherwise. It was adopted.

The Rev. Stephen H Tyng, a very prominent radical abolitionist before the war, and Captain John L. Warden, of the United States Navy, who commanded the Monitor in the fight with the Merrimac in Hampton Roads, in March 1862, have written letters endorsing the objects for which the Soldiers and Sailors' Convention has been called at Cleaveland.

General Grant has not only given arms to the cadets of the Virginia Military Institute, but has also restored to them the old "Cadet Battery." He remarked in doing so that "the rising generation must be educated, and the means for that purpose must not be withheld."

A little boy in Wheeling borrowed of a merchant there fifty cents for which he gave his note to be paid with intrest at six per cent.—He has made $20 by speculating in apples and peaches, and promptly paid his note.

The resignation of Drouyn de l'Huys as Napoleon's Minister of Foreign Affairs and the appointment in his place of the Marquis de Moustier is a change of some significance in the present position of European affairs. A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. Maggiel, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Gerrick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C,

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.
